1JustCity	Housing Stability and Housing Loss Prevention Program	Housing Stability and Housing Loss Prevention is a Prevention/Shelter Diversion project operated by 1Just City. This program is designed to assist individuals at risk of homelessness by focusing on stabilizing their housing situations, maintaining successful tenancies, preventing evictions, and providing re-housing assistance as needed. The project supports residents in securing and retaining their housing, thereby breaking the cycle of homelessness.	Prevention / Shelter Diversion 100%
A&O Support Services	This Full House	This Full House (TFH) is a Prevention and Shelter Diversion project operated by A & O Support Services for Older Adults. The initiative supports Winnipeg residents aged 55 and older who are struggling with hoarding disorder and are at risk of detrimental health outcomes and eviction. TFH takes a person-centered approach, providing counseling, referrals, and specialized clean-up services designed to promote safety and prevent homelessness.	Prevention / Shelter Diversion 100%

		Participants are also offered access to the Buried in Treasures support group, which helps them develop strategies to manage hoarding behaviors and maintain stable housing. In addition to therapeutic and practical supports, A & O provides emergency funds for clean-ups, advocates on behalf of clients with building management, and offers temporary accommodations when needed. The project also assists individuals leaving abusive situations, ensuring they have access to safe and appropriate housing options. Through these comprehensive and compassionate services, This Full House helps older adults maintain their housing, improve their well-being, and strengthen their connection to community.
Aboriginal Health and Wellness Centre	A Place To Call Home	A Place To Call Home (APTCH) is a Housing Support and Support Services project operated by the Aboriginal Health and Wellness Center. This project employs the Housing First approach, emphasizing rapid placement in housing without preconditions, as a core strategy to address homelessness. APTCH integrates traditional Indigenous healing practices symbolized by the Medicine Wheel with Western methods of care, grounding its services in a philosophy that respects and incorporates holistic, culturally-informed frameworks. This blend of traditions and modern practices aims to create a supportive environment that respects the cultural identities of its participants.	Housing Supports 90% Support Services 10%

		The services offered by A Place To Call Home include a harm reduction approach and intensive case management, tailored to meet the unique needs of its constituents. West Broadway Development Corporation	Housing Supports Initiative	Housing Supports Initiative is a Prevention/Shelter Diversion project operated by West Broadway Development Corporation. The project is crucial in supporting individuals in the West Broadway neighborhood who are facing eviction or homelessness. The West Broadway Housing Support Initiatives provide low-barrier, one-on-one support to residents at risk of or currently experiencing eviction. By educating individuals on tenant rights and responsibilities, assisting with securing safe, low-income accommodations, and connecting them with local resources, the project helps community members stabilize their housing situations. This proactive approach is designed to prevent evictions and reduce homelessness in the area. The project's goal is to decrease the number of community members evicted or forced into homelessness. Its support not only helps individuals maintain their current housing but also aids in securing future stable living conditions, fostering a more resilient community.
